

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Free New Monroe Brakes[®] Technician's Guide Details Modern Brake System Diagnosis and Repair

Illustrated 16-Page Book Covers System Evolution, Diagnostic Steps and Proven Repair Techniques for Today's Professionals

Monroe, MI, June 28, 2016 – A comprehensive new brake system diagnosis and repair guide for professional technicians is now available from Tenneco's Monroe Brakes[®] brand. The 16-page, illustrated, free publication, "A Professional Technician's Guide to Brake Service," includes in-depth information regarding the evolution of automotive brake system technologies as well as proven steps for identifying and correcting common brake performance issues.

Featuring a handy, laminated "flip-book" format ideally suited to vehicle repair facilities, the Monroe Brakes guide includes detailed diagrams of the mechanical, hydraulic and electronic components represented in a modern brake system, as well as recommended steps designed to ensure a fast, complete repair that enhances customer confidence and loyalty. Dozens of photos and illustrations help technicians properly identify and address the root causes of common brake wear, noise, pedal feel, dusting and other complaints. Also detailed are inspection procedures for modern brake system electronics as well as rotors and hydraulic system components, and pad and shoe installation tips.

"Brake diagnosis and repair are becoming increasingly complex with each new generation of vehicle technology," said Tom Connelly, national marketing and sales manager, Monroe Brakes. "Our new technician's guide, in combination with our extensive portfolio of other technical resources, can help professionals minimize the chances of comebacks, ultimately leading to superior customer satisfaction and loyalty."

For technicians requiring additional technical support for a specific brake repair challenge, the guide outlines the many resources available through Tenneco's Technical Resource Center, including live Techline assistance from ASE-certified professionals, training clinics and DVDs, and Web-based print and video tools. Additional technical information also is available via www.MonroeBrakes.com.

To order a copy of the Monroe Brakes “A Professional Technician’s Guide to Brake Service” training guide and learn more about the Monroe Brakes product line, please contact your Monroe Brakes or Tenneco sales representative and visit www.monroebrakes.com.

Tenneco is an $8.2 billion global manufacturing company with headquarters in Lake Forest, Illinois and approximately 30,000 employees worldwide. Tenneco is one of the world’s largest designers, manufacturers and marketers of clean air and ride performance products and systems for automotive and commercial vehicle original equipment markets and the aftermarket. Tenneco’s principal brand names are Monroe[®], Walker[®], XNOx[®] and Clevite[®] Elastomer.

###